PREFACE

It is a pleasant feature to note that only after a lapse of about seven months this second part of the Descriptive Catalogue of the Agamika Literature gets published. This is due to the fact that this time the progress in printing has been even a little bit more than double of what it has been in the case of Part I.

To begin with, I may say few words about the procedure adopted in this second part.

As already stated in the preface (pp. xiii-xiv) of Part I of this Volume, the headings of description, the inter-arrangement of descriptive sheets pertaining to the same text, and the matter to be included here were: practically decided by Rao Bahadur Dr. S. K. Belvalkar, M. A., Ph. D., the then Hon. Secretary of the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute and Hon. Superintendent of the Mss. Department.

I may however note that some changes have been introduced in the general outlines of this part. The mere expression "Devanagari characters" used by me rather reluctantly in the first part and in the first 8 forms of this second part, has been found to be inadequate so far as the special features of most of the Jaina Mss. IT concerned. Consequently I have here added the word "Jaina" before "Devanagari characters" where necessary. The expression "Jaina Devanagari character" is used in Prof. A. B. Keith's Catalogue of the Sanskrit and Prakrit Manuscripts in the Library of the India Office, Vol. II, pt. II, Nos. 7441, 7442 etc.

It is a fact that the Jaina Devanāgarī characters differ in various ways from the non-Jaina Devanāgarī characters. This will be clear from the chart of Jaina and non-Jaina characters given at the end as Appendix I. Since, in this chart some of the Jaina characters

I Three pages of this Appendix have been printed at the Nirnayasagar Press, Bombay. On p. 2, l. 18 at ought to have been placed before vor, and that the special symbol in Hindi ought to have been used for vor.

usually met with in the Jaina Mss. could not be given for want of suitable types, I got two plates of the same prepared according to my instructions. For the necessary arrangements made in this connection I am indebted to Dr. V. S. Sukthankar, M. A., Ph. D., the Hon. Superintendent of the Mss. Department and the Hon. Secretary of the Institute.

It has been found that on the whole most of the Jaina Mss. begin in a number of ways, and that therein bhale (48) styled by some scholars as a Jaina diagram occupies prominent place. As the necessary type for this bhale was not available while printing Part I, it was omitted; but now this discrepancy is here removed for which I have to thank Mr. P. K. Gode, M. A., the Curator of the Institute.

There was up till now another discrepancy remaining to be attended to. It pertained to the printing of letter-numerals used for foliation in Jaina Mss. As it was not found possible to do more than to give approximate a representation of these letter-numerals as was consistent with the materials at the disposal of the press of the Institute, seven plates prepared under my instructions have been given here. In this connection, too, I have to thank Dr. V. S. Sukthankar, who most willingly agreed to get the corresponding blocks prepared, when I drew his kind attention to the fact that I had to deal with a number of Jaina palmyra Mss. forming a very rich collection in the Government Mss. Library deposited at the Institute.

During the course of the printing of this second part, I got an opportunity of consulting Prof. Keith's Catalogue of the Sanskrit and Prākrit Manuscripts in the Library of the India Office. So, from the eleventh form, information about additional Jaina Mss. has been incorporated, and the corresponding information connected with the Mss. described in the first part of this Volume has been given here in the addenda wherein the following three additional works are made use of:—

¹ See Appendix II, pp. ¶ and 5. On p. 5 there ought to be हीं instead of ली, in the small square inside the 51st square.

² See Appendix II, p. 12.

³ Two of them are given in Appendix III, and the rest in Appendix IV.

- (1) La Religion Djaina by A. Guérinot.
- (2) लींबडी जैन ज्ञानभंडारनी हस्तलिखित प्रतिओतुं सूचीपत्र-
- (3) Die Lehre der Jainas nach der alten Quellen dargestellby Walther Schubring.

The serial number for the Mss. given in the rectangular bracket in the top-line of a page requires word of explanation. On every even page, a number referring to the Ms. of which the description is continued or in the absence of such a Ms., a number pertaining to the very first Ms. taken up for description, ought to be usually given; instead of that in the present part the number of the last Ms. taken up for description is given. I was all the while under the impression that this different method was introduced in my Catalogue by the Publication Department and so I did not modify it. But, very recently when I came across a printed form of the Alamkara, Samgita and Natya, the 12th Volume of Descriptive Catalogue of the Government Collections of Manuscripts, I found therein the other method followed. On this matter being referred to the Hon. Secretary, it was decided that the method followed up till now should be given up and the other method should be adopted in order that there might be uniformity regards the Descriptive Catalogues published by the Institute. Consequently the method adopted in this part as well as in the first part, will be discontinued hereafter.

The system of transliteration followed here is identical with that adopted in Part I as will be seen from page xxiii.

All textual matter which appeared to me to be superfluous is enclosed within rectangular brackets [], while additions and alterations, are enclosed within parantheses ().

As regards the appendices given in this part, I may say that they are different from those referred to in the preface (p. xiv) of Part 1.

These have been utilized from p. 221 in this part.

Now word about the contents of this second part. As is well-known to a student of Jaina Literature the canonical treatises of the Jainas are usually divided by the Svetāmbara school into six groups, viz. (1) the Angas, (2) the Upangas, (3) the Prakīrnakas, (4) the Chedasatras, (5) the Calikasatras and (6) the Malasatras. Out of these the first three groups have been already treated in Part I. This part, therefore, commences with the fourth group. Over and above this it deals with the fifth group viz. the Calikasatras along with their explanatory literature as recorded in Sanskrit and Gujarātī languages in the Mss. themselves.

As regards the six Chedasutras, the Jaina tradition replaces by Jiya-kappasutta, the Pancakappasutta (the 6th Chedasutra) which is not available at present. But, since its curni etc., are available, herein is given exegetical literature of seven works instead of six only. Furthermore, the two works Jaijiyakappasutta and Saddhajiyakappasutta, each of which is subsequently composed on the basis of Jiyakappasutta, are treated here along with their exegetical literature.

The Calikasutras contain 2 works viz. Nandisutta and Anuogad-dara.

It may be mentioned that there seems to be no hard and fast rule laid down regarding the order of the six Chedasūtras or the two Calikāsūtras; so I need not dilate upon it here. All the same it may be pointed out that the order for the Chedasūtras here adopted agrees with that found in Verzeichniss der Sanskru und Prākrithandschriften der Koniglichen Bibliothek zu Berlin Vol. II, pt. II, p. X, La Religion Djaīna, (pp. 78-79), A History of Indian Literature Vol. II, p. 429 etc.

It may not be amiss to say a few words about the contents of the remaining portion to be included in Volume XVII which is devoted to the Agamika Literature. This portion will deal with the Malasatras, miscellanea and some of the works on Jaina ritualism. As a rule the Malasatras are four in number. Even then under this heading will be given five works viz. Uttarajjhayanasutta, Dasaveyāliyasutta, Āvassayasutta, Pinḍanijjutti and Ohanijjutti. For, out of these five works the first three are universally accepted as the Mulasutras, while it is left to an individual to choose either of the last two works as the fourth Mulasutra.

Under miscellanea will be included such works as are Agamika owing to their being appendages of the Avassyasutta or to their being closely related to the canonical treatises of the Jainas.

The ritualistic works will be followed by the Appendices to be published at the end of Volume XVII under the following heads:—

- (1) Index of authors.
- (2) Index of works.
- (3) Classification of works according to languages.
- (4) List of works according to the date of their composition.
 - 5) Correspondence table of Mss.
- (6) Chronological order of dated Mss.
- (7) Names of places where Mss. were written and works composed.
- (8) Names of scribes, presentees and others.
- (9) Abbreviations occurring in Mss.

When the foregoing portion will be printed Volume XVII will be completed, and thereafter will arise the question of bifurcation regarding almost every section to follow. For, so far as the Agamas are concerned, there is no chance for any bifurcation since the Digambaras believe that all of their Agamas have been irrevocably lost for ever and thus they have no canonical works of their own. The Svetāmbaras, however, believe and rightly that except the twelfth anga, the remaining Agamas are not entirely lost and hence they do possess at least to some extent the eleven Angas along with the twelve Upāngas etc.

In the end I may gladly and respectfully record my indebtedness to Vidvadvallabha Muni Punyavijayjī, disciple of Munirāja Śrī Caturavijaya and a grand-disciple of Pravartaka Śrīmat Kāntivijaya, who has once more quite willingly rendered to me valuable assistance by going through a duplicate copy of the page-proofs of the non-English portions. I am also indebted to the Secretary and the members of the Executive Board of the Institute for having expedited the printing and thus given an early opportunity to the public in general and the Jaina community in particular to know more about the Jaina Mss. pertaining to this part.

A LIST OF

PRINTED CATALOGUES AND REPORTS ABOUT MANUSCRIPTS

The following is the list of works (Catalogues, Reports, etc.) already published embodying the results of the search and preservation of Sanskrit manuscripts in the Bombay Circle from 1868 to 1915. well. Like the other chedasūtras this chedasūtra prescribes rules for the life to be led by monks and nuns and atonements, and penances by way of punishment for vanious transgressions against these rules of daily life. Thus all the chedasūtras have almost the same contents as we meet with, under the name of Vinaya in Buddhist literatare. As observed by Winternitz this Niśithasūtra which deals with the discipline of the order "has embodied the major portion of the Vavahāra in its last sections and has numerous similar sūtras in common with cūlas I and II of the Ayāramga. Probably these works originated in one and the same earlier source."

the 4th there is also a narrative about two brothers Sumati and Nāila. The 5th deals with the relation between the guru and his pupil. This adhyayana seems to have supplied materials for composing Gacchācāra¹. The 6th adhyayana treats of prāyaścittas and contains a narrative pertaining to a teacher Bhadda and Rayyā, the āryikā. The last two adhyayanas which are styled as cūliyās supply information about the daughter of Suyyasivi.

Subject.— This is the third chedasūtra. It deals with prescriptions and interdictions. In short it points out what Jaina saints ought to do and what they are expected to refrain from; in case of violating the prescribed rules, they have to go in for prāyaścittas (expiations). This chedasūtra is utilized in composing Gacchācāra. and it has some portion in common with Niśithasūtra.

Subject.— This chedasūtra is known as Dasāo¹, Ayāradasāo² and Ācāradaśā, too. It is said to have been extracted by Bhadrabāhusvāmin from the 9th Pūrva. It consists of ten significant sections. The respective topics treated therein are under:—

(I) 20 असमाहिट्ठाण (असमाधिस्थान), (2) 21 सबलदोस (शबलदोष), (3) 33 आसायणा (आशातना), (4) ■ गणिसंपदा

^{1-2.} See Nos. 482 and 480 respectively.

(गणिसम्पदा), (5) 10 चित्तसमाहिट्टाण (चित्तसमाधिस्थान), (6) 11 उवासगपडिमा (उपासकप्रतिमा), (7) 12 भिक्खुपडिमा (भिक्षुप्रतिमा), (8) पञ्जोसवणाकप्प (पर्युषणाकल्प), (9) 30 मोहणिञ्जट्टाण (मोहनीयस्थान) and (10) आयातिट्टाण (आयतिस्थान).

It may be added that each of the 7 daśās dealing with regulations pertaining to the discipline of the sādhus and śrāvakas begins with suyam me āusam etc. as in Ācārānga-sūtra and ends with ti bemi. In the 5th dāśā there is given a narrative about a sermon of Lord Mahāvīra at the time of king Jitasattu. It goes up to 17 verses. The 9th daśā gives us a sermon of Mahāvīra under king Koṇiya, in 39 verses. In the 10th section we find Seṇiya and his queen Cellaṇā listening to Mahāvīra's sermon. Their splendour etc. detracted the mind of almost all the sādhus and sādhvīs and consequently Mahāvīra delivered a lengthy sermon.

 (Kappasutta)

 No. 496
 183.

Size.— $10\frac{3}{8}$ in. by $4\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Description.— Country paper thick, rough and greyish; Jaina Devanāgarī characters with occasional gentats; bold, quite legible and tolerably good hand-writing; borders ruled in four lines in black ink; the intervening space between the pairs coloured yellow; every numbered side is decorated with a small design in each of the two margins; fol. 16b spoiled; condition very good; fol. 1a blank; fol. 63b decorated with a design in red ink; incomplete as it ends abruptly at the beginning of the 8th couplet of waterest; thus only the first part viz. Jinacarita is complete; it ends on fol. 55b; on fol. 1b we find Gujarātī explanation written above and below the lines of the text, probably in the same hand but the attempt is given up after writing four lines.

Age .-- Not quite modern.

Author. -- Bhadrabāhusvāmin (according to the tradition).

Subject—This work is known as Paryuṣaṇā-kalpa and forms the 8th chapter of Daśāśrutaskandha, one of the chedasūtras already noted. This Kalpasūtra is divided into 3 vācyas (sections) in Samdehaviṣauṣadhī, Subodhikā etc., as under:-

(1) Jinacarita, (2) Sthavirāvalī and (3) Sāmācārī.

In Jinacaritra the lifer of Lord Mahāvīra occupies the major portion. The conception, transference of the embryo and the birth of Mahāvīra are described in the same way as in Ācārāngasūtra. Then come the 14 dreams, their interpretation, Mahāvīra's grhavāsa, his twelve years' life as an ascetic and his activities for about 30 years after he became omniscient. The description of the biography of Mahāvīra given here reminds one of the Lalitavistarā, a Buddhistic work.

This is narrated "in great detail, with great diffuseness with descriptions in he Kāvya style and with exaggerations beyond all measure". So says Winternitz, Vide "A History of Indian Literature" vol. II, p. 463.

In Sthavirāvalī, we find a list of ganas (schools), their sākhās (branches) and the ganadharas (heads of schools). The names given in this list are borne out by the inscriptions from the 1st century A. D.

Sāmācāri, a code of rules for asceticism deals with rules and regulations pertaining to pajjusana. This section is looked upon by Western scholars as the oldest nucleus, and they opine that Bhadrabāhu does not seem to be the author of all the three sections which have been united to form a whole in the Kalpasūtra.

Jacobi, Leipzig in A. D. 1879. The text was published at Calcutta in A. D. 1887. It was also published by the Atmānanda Sabhā with Subodhikā of Vinayavijaya Gaṇi and the commentary by Lakṣmīvallabha as well, in Samvat 1975, and with Kiraṇāvalī of Dharmasāgara Gaṇi in Samvat 1978. The text was published with Subodhikā in the D. L. J. P. F. Series as Nos. 7 and 61 respectively in A. D. 1911 and 1923. The text with Kālikācārya's Kathā was published in D. L. J. P. F. Series as No. 18 in A. D. 1914. An edition of the text with copious illustrations in three colours or more was published in 1933 A. D. in D. L. J. P. F. Series as No. 82.

Kalpasūtra was translated into English by H. Jacobi in the S. B. E. Series vol. XXII. For contents etc. see Weber II, p. 648ff. Indian Antiquary vol. XXI, p. 211f. and Winternitz, Geschichte vol. II, p. 309ff. Also see B. B. R. A. S. vols. III-IV, p. 385 ff. and G. O. Series vol. XXI, p. 28. For additional Mss. of Kalpasūtra and their full descriptions see Prof. A. B. Keith's "Catalogue of the Sanskrit and Prākrit Manuscripts from the library of India Office" vol. II, pt. II, Nos. 7467 to 7470.

I From Indian Antiquary vol. XXI, p. 212 we learn that according to Weber "the legendery excursi of the last dasâu (5, 8, 9 and 10) in reference Mahâvîra are doubtless the cause of the introduction of the Kalpasûtra, the first part of which treats especially of the life of Mahâvîra."

² Herein there is a remark as under:-

[&]quot;This work is not by the famous Bhadrabāhu; see Winternitz, Geschichte der indischer Litteratur, II, 309-310 (H. T. Colebrooke)."

In the German work (p. 309) above referred to we have the following lines:-- [&]quot;In dem Kalpasütra sind drei verschiedene Texte zu einem Ganzen vereinigt, und es schient nicht gut möglich, dass sie alle den Bhadrabāhu zum Verfasser haben".

These lines are translated into English as under:-- [&]quot;Three different texts are united to form a whole in the Kalpa-Sûtra, and it does not seem feasible that Bhadrabāhu was the author of all three."

^{-&}quot; A History of Indian Literature," vol. II, p. 462.

As Weber has pointed out Kalpasūtra was the first Jaina text made known in A. D. 1848 to occidental scholars in the very faulty translation of Rev. J. Stevenson. See his edition of "The Kalpa Sutra and Nava Tattva", London. Lassen's Indische Alterthumskunde, vol. IV, its translation published in Indian Antiquary vol. II, pp. 193-200 and 258-265, Hindu Philosophy popularly explained - the heterodox systems (ch. VI. & VII) by R. C. Bose, Calcutta, 1887, S.J. Size .- 101 in. by 41 in.

I Kaipalatā is tentatively placed here; for, without examining all the internal and external evidences it is not possible to fix up its date, and this is not possible here at this stage., so its location here should not be taken to mean that it was composed between 1685 and 1696 years, unless this is supported otherwise. This much is however certain that it is composed in the life-time of Jinarāja Sūri who died in Samvat 1699 (I. A. XI, p. 250 | and at that time Jinasāgara Sūri was yuvarāja, Extent. -- 134 folios; 16 lines to a page; 52 letters to I line.

Description.— Country paper sufficiently thick and greyish; Jaina Devanāgarī characters; bold, clear, uniform and good hand-writing; borders ruled in two lines in red ink; red chalk and yellow pigment used; foll. numbered in both the margins; small strip of paper pasted to the fol. 89^b; the last (134th) fol. slightly torn; condition on the whole very good; both the text and the commentary complete. Age. - Samvat 1744.

Author of the commentary.— Samayasundara Upādhyāya¹, pupil of Jinacandra of the Kharatara gaccha.

Subject.— The text as before, with a commentary in Sankrit to elucidate it. In this commenanty an attempt has been made to prove that there are six kalyāṇakas² for Lord Mahāvīra.

I For a list of his works etc. my edition of Anekārtharatnamañjūṣā published in D. L. J. P. F. Series No. 81.

[■] The question of the impropriety of believing six kalyāṇakas is recently discussed in Siddhacakra vol. III, No. 23; pp. 538-539.

This belief is criticized by Anandasāgara Sūri in his edition of Kalpasūtra and Subodhikā on pp. 9^b, 24^b, 30^a, 34^b and 38^a. Vide D. L. J. P. F. Series, No. 61.

Author of the the commentary. — Laksmīvallabha Upādhyāya, pupil of Laksmīkīrti.

Subject.— The text with a commentary mostly in Sanskrit. At times we find a passage or so written in Gujarātī. Vide fol. 6.ª Like Kalpalatā, this commentary, too, upholds the view that there are six kalyāṇakas for Lord Mahāvīra. Muni Maṇisāgara, the editor of the printed work Kalpadrumakalikā has tried to support this view by quoting the following works as a note on pp. 13ª to 18b:—

(1) Sthānānga (V), (2) its commentary by Abhayadeva Sūri, (3) Kalpasūtra (Pārśavanātha-adhikāra), (4) Ācārānga (2nd śrutaskandha, bhāvanādhyayana), (5) its commentary by Śīlānka Sūri, (6) Triṣaṣṭiśalākāpuruṣacaritra (X, 2), (7) Samavāyāngavṛtti, (8) Kalpasūtranirukti(?a) by Vinayacandra and (9) an avacūrikā of Kalpasūtra.

Reference.— The text published along with Kalpadrumakalikā by Veljī Shivjī Dāṇābunder, Māndvī, 45 Clive Road, Bombay, with the introduction of Maṇisāgara in 1918 A. D. In this introduction the question of believing six kalyānakas is raised and several works and authors are mentioned as supporting this view. This topic is followed by the one referring to the taking into account the days of adhika māsa. Here, too, various authorities, Jaina and non-Jaina are cited as appoving the idea of counting them. That mukhavastrikā should be tied at the time of vyākhyāna occupies the next place. Then the last topic dealt with is that the Sādhvīs should not be debarred from delivering sermon, in case there is no Sādhu to do so.

Subject. — This work is full of quotations. Even passages in Gujarātī are quoted from Vāgvilāsa; see fol. 9². The सूत्रs of कर्णसूत्र are given with their explanation in Sanskrit but it does not seem that all the सूत्रs are mentioned or that all are given in regular order. This Ms. contains the complete sāmācārī along with its Sanskrit explanation. In all there are 4 vyākhyānas. As already noted this Ms. commences with the fifth vyākhyāna instead of the first, as it appears on comparing it with the printed edition (p. 99^b).

Size. - 101 in. by 41 in.

Extent. -61 - 42 = 19 folios; 15 lines to a page; 40 letters to a line.

Description.— Country paper thin and white, Jaina Devanāgarī characters; big, clear and good hand-writing; borders ruled in three lines and edges in two, in red ink; yellow pigment used; foll. numbered in the right-hand margin; condition very good; foll. I to 42 missing; consequently both the text and its commentary begin abruptly; it is difficult to say which this commentary is; at least it does not seem to be Kalpasubodhikā; the text begins with the 48th sūtra and ends with the 96th sūtra or the last sūtra of the 4th vyākhyāna. Thus it deals with part of Jinacarita only. The commentary, too, ends abruptly. There is blank space in the centre of the numbered and the unnumbered sides as well.

Extent.—89 folios; 13 lines to 1 page; 44 letters to a line.

Age. - Pretty old.

Author, - Sanghadāsa Kṣamāśramaņa as noted on p. 261,

Subject.— The entire work is composed in Prākrit in verses. It elucidates the laghubhāṣya (?) of Pañcakalpasūtra which is considered to be the 6th (last) chedasūtra. It is reported in Jaina Granthāvalī (p. 16) that now-a-days up manuscript of this chedasūtra is available. It existed up to Samvat 1612. Hence Jītakalpasūtra is substituted in its place.

Sometimes it is found that the brhadbhāṣya of an āgama is preceded by its cūrṇi. It is on this analogy that the cūrni of Pañcakalpasūtra is given a place prior to its brhadbhāṣya. So this must be for the present looked upon as a tentative arrangement.

r Muni Punyavijayaji once wrote to me in this connection that Paficakappa formed topic of the bhāṣya of Bṛhatkalpasūtra and it was somehow looked upon as separate treatise as was the with Ohanijjutti and Pindanijjutti. See p. 298 of my article "The Jaina Commentaries" published in the Annals of the Bhandarkar O. R. Institute (vol. XVI, pts. III-IV). On this page I have further mentioned that Muni Kalyāṇavijayajī has observed that in Pañcakappasutta there is reference about Kālika Sūri's going wa Ājīvika for studying aṣṭānga-nimitta.

Reference.— This work along with Siddhasena's curni etc. (pp. 1195-1210) was edited in Roman characters by Ernst Leumann and published under the title "Jinabhadra's Jītakalpa mit Auszügen aus Siddhasena's Cürni" in Sitzungsberichte der Königlich Preussischen Akademie der Wissenschaften, Berlin, 1892. The contents of this edition are noted by A. Guérinot in his work "Essai de Bibliographie Jaina "on p. 156. The text is published in Devanagari characters by Jaina Sāhitya Samsodhaka Samiti, Ahmedabad in A. D. 1926, as No. 7 of its series called Jaina Sahitya Samsodhaka Granthamālā. In this edition are published Siddhasena Gaņi's cūrņi styled as brhaccūrņi together with visamapadavyākhyā and introduction in Gujarātī mainly dealing with the life and works of Jinabhadra Gani Ksamāśramana. In this introduction (p. 16) it is pointed out that instead of 10 kinds of prayascitta, 91 are mentioned in Tattvārtha (IX, 21-22) and that should be taken into account while deciding the authorship of Tattvārtha. For a Ms. of Jītakalpa with bhāṣya see Līmbdī Catalogue, No. 982.

¹ For the reason why 9 are mentioned see Siddhasena Gani's tika (p. 253) and my introduction (p. 26).

I This is the manuverse as occurs in Sādhuratna's vivrti of Yatijītakalpa (see p. 283). So one may be led to believe that this Ms. contains Yatijītakalpa and not Jītakalpa but then there is another fact to be noted that in that case the number of verses cannot be only 107. So this requires a thorough investigation which is not possible at this stage.

- No. 266, page 258. Reference—Before. "For contents" add: An attempt to collect references about narratives, legendary ancedotes etc. is made by Kurt von Kamptz in his monograph "Uber die vom Sterbfasten handelner ältern Païṇṇa des Jaina-Kanon", Hamburg, 1929.

In La Religion Djaina (pp. 77-78), the following 10 prakīrņakas dealt with:—

(1) Catuḥśaraṇa, (2) Āturapratyākhyāna, (3) Bhaktaparijñā, (4) Saṁstāraka, (5) Tandulavaicārika, (6) Candrāvedhyaka, (7) Devendrastava, (8) Gaṇividyā, (9) Mahāpratyākhyāna and (10) Vīrastava.

Die Lehre der Jainas (pp. 75-76) too, deal with not only these ten prakīrņakas but with two more viz. Tīrthodgālika and Ārādhanāpatākā. It may be noted that the order of the ten prakīrņakas followed here differs from the one mentioned above. For, (1) to (10) of La Religion Djaīna correspond to (1), (4), (2), (3), (8), (6), (9), (7), (5) and (10) of Die Lehre der Jainas.

In Winternitz, Geschichte, prakīrņakas are referred to on pp. 292, 308 and 316. On p. 292 the same ten prakīrņakas as noted. La Religion Djaina are mentioned and that, too, in the same order. As expected these very prakīrņakas are dealt with in the same order by Winternitz in his another work viz. "A History of Indian Literature" (vol. II, p. 429). For other details regarding the prakīrņakas see the same work (pp. 448n., 458-461, 461n. 472 and 473).

How the name Jinadāsa is suggested by the Nisīthasūtraviseṣa-cūrnikāra himself is explained by me in my note "Methods adopted by Jaina writers for recording their own names and those of their gurus in the works composed by them (p. 84) published in the Annals of B. Niśitha (sūtratrāviśeṣa)cūrṇi (Uddeśaka XVII) is referred to by Malliṣeṇa Sūri in his Syādvādamañjari 2 (com. to v. I of Anyayogavyavacchedadvātrimśikā) where he says that in the cūrṇi, it is said that from the upalakaṣaṇa of 1008 exterior lakṣanas, an infinite number of the interior ones follows.

In the MSS., they almost never have the horizontal stroke drawn were them above, though this is added in all the printed forms of the characters."

Explanatory Notes to Appendix II

As regards the symbols and characters given in the two plates above, there are good many points worth noting; however, I reserve them for the future. I shall here deal with only a few. To begin with I may say that some of the characters given here are likely to be mistaken for something else. As a matter of fact a few scholars have been already misled, and this has added to the errors of ignorant scribes. For instance, it appears that the corresponding Jaina character for was mistaken for by the late Prof. Bühler. This caused the late historian Vincent A. Smith make the following wrong statement in his article "The Jain Teachers of Akabar" published in R. G. Bhandarkar Commemoration Volume (p. 273):—

"No. CXVIII commemorates one of these pilgrimages, which was undertaken by Vimalaharşa and 200 others. The same inscription states that Hīravijaya belonged to the Sāpha race."

Here the word Sādhu is mistaken for Sāpha.

The late Prof. A. Weber was misled by the corresponding Jaina ligature for π . He mistook it for π . See his Catalogue (Verzeichniss der Sanskrit und Prakrit-handschriften der Königlischen Bibliothek zu Berlin), vol. II, pt. II, p. 525, l. 13², p. 576, l. 9³ etc. There is another Jaina ligature viz. one for π which was mistaken for π by this same veteran scholar and pioneer of Jaina studies in Europe. See his catalogue of Mss. in the Berlin Library (above referred to) vol. II, pt. II, p. 577, l. 25⁴.

By the by I may point out that one more ligature of the Jaina script is likely to be mistaken so much so that it may not be even suspected to be a ligature. One conversant with the Jaina script

Several of them are due to an interchange of letters, some of them being as under:—

इ and ह; क and त्र ; स and देय; च and त्र ; त and त्र ; त and त्र ; त and म; त and म; त and म; त and न्य ; त्र and न्य ; त्र and न्य ; त्र and न्य ; त्र and न्य ; त्र and न्य ; स and स्व ; स्त and स्व ; स्य and स्त ; ष्ट and न्य ; and ह and न्य ;

²⁻³ Miyagrāme is written for miyaggāme and pograla for poggala.

knows it full well that z when written with its circular bottom to its left stands for z in the Jaina script. The late Babu Rajendralal Mitra mistook the Jaina character for z z as can be seen from his work "A Catalogue of Sanskrit Manuscripts in the Library of His Highness the Maharāja of Bikanera" (Calcutta, 1880), No. 1537 (p. 702) and No. 1780² (p. 719) respectively.

Now I may say a few words about some of the symbols given in the two plates of this appendix. The very first symbol given in the first square of the first plate is read as bhale (अक) in Gujarātī. It may be ornamented at times for which the reader is referred to the 68th and the 69th squares occurring in the last line of the second plate. Bhale occurs in the beginning of Jaina Mss. in various ways, some of which are as under:—

ច្បា,∥ច្បែ…,∥ឲ្ចប…,∥ប្ចប…, ឲ្ចប…, ប្ច្ប…, ប្ត្ប… u,ប្ចែ…,∥ឲ្ចប… ដែបប….॥ច្បand ∪្រុចបា³

The second symbol occurring in the second square of the first plate appears to be the same as one evaluated as sit by Pandit Gaurishankar Hirachand Ojha in his work The Palæography of India, plate XXVII. It is sometimes found in the beginning of Jaina Mss. 4, like the one preceding it and the one following it. Usually we have the first symbol noted above. At times this (t), too, appears without portion above the horizontal stroke i. e. as t. 5 Thus Jaina Mss. begin in a number of ways.

In Prof. A. B. Keith's Catalogue of the Sanskrit and Prakrit Manuscripts from the Library of the India Office (vol. II, pt. II) one comes across the phrase "Jaina diagram" 6.

A question is likely to be raised here as to what is meant by this Jaina diagram. My surmise is that it stands for (i) any one of the first three symbols given in the first three squares of the 1st plate, (ii) one of its variants or (iii) the combinations of one of them with or without a danda or dandas and a cipher or ciphers.

The sign placed by the letter of in the 34th square, the last but one in the 1st plate is generally regarded as one for anusvara. But it appears that in this Ms. and some others as well, it is used for a dash and for ornamentation, too. It rems it is used for upadhmaniya also as an be seen from "The Palæography of India", plate XXVII.

Various signs have been used up till now while combining vowels with consonants. In plate No. XX given in The Palæography of India there are four distinct ways to be noticed regarding sign for M. One of them (the sign used for M in M) can be compared with what is used here above \mathfrak{A}^4 in the 35th square, the last in the first plate. Pandit Ohja has observed on p.3 that this is a matra of M and it belongs to the Kutila script.

The sign occurring in the 52nd square (i. e. the 17th of the 2nd plate) is one we meet with for jihvāmūliya and upadhmānīya spirants, the 1st when visarga is followed by and and and the 2nd, when it is followed by and and are respectively.

The sign given in the 53rd square (i. e. the 18th of the 2nd plate) stands for the sign of avagraha ('separator') which is used in the Mss. for three different purposes: (i) to mark the elision of initial

T While going through this proof-sheet I learn that Prof. A. B. Keith has kindly replied to the Curator through whom I had inquired about the Jaina diagram. His reply is as under:—

[&]quot;.....the Jaina diagram referred to normally resembles the first form (t) given in Prof. Kapadia's letter and is sometimes held to be intended as an abbreviation of arham."

² Compare the Bengali method of writing anusvāra.

³ On fol. 3b of No. 1086 (रत्नाकरपञ्चित्रितिका), in the end we have 11 2 110 and the sign on ह on fol. 153 a of No. 300 (पदानान्द्रपञ्चित्रातिका).

अ after final ए or ओ, (ii) to indicate a hyphen and (iii) to denote a mark of hiatus, '

The object in giving the squares Nos. 36-46, 65 and 66, 47-49 and 50 is to show how the signs for ikāra², īkāra, ekāra³ and anusvāra of the Devanāgarī script are written in an ornamental way in Mss.

The sign $\sqrt{\ }$ placed above the kānā of $\sqrt{\ }$ given in the 67th square occurring in the last line of the 2nd plate suggests that this kānā is to be deleted. Generally, when a letter is not to be taken into account, a dot is placed above it.4

It is said that at times a circle⁵ is drawn circumscribing a letter to indicate that it is not wanted. I do not remember to have noticed it up till now but I have come across Mss. ⁶ where the redundent portion is placed in brackets.

Vidyādhara in his commentary to this verse (fol. 5b of No. $\frac{454}{1895-1902}$) makes the following observation regarding kuṇḍalanā:—

"अन्यद्पि यदाधिकं राब्दादि भवति तस्य निरर्थकत्वाद् रेखया कुण्डलना क्रियते। ...निरर्थकत्वप्रतिपादिका कुण्डलना..."

Nārāyaṇa in his commentary (p. 13) of the Nirnayasagar edition says:—
" वृथा लिखितमन्थस्य कुण्डलनया लोपः क्रियते"

² Some of the ornamentations pertaining to this are found on p. 16 of the prastāvanā of Sanmati prakaraņa (Śrī Puñjābhaī Jaina Granthamālā, No. 6).

³ See also No. $\frac{318}{1871-72}$ (कुमारविहारशतक).

^{4.} See v. 142 given on fol. 400b of Gommațasāra No. 578 1875-76

⁵ This circle is called "kundalana". See "A Sanskrit English Dictionary" (p. 235) by Monier Williams, Prin. K. K. Handiqui has made a similar remark in his foot-note on kundalana (p. 548) occurring in Naisadhacarita (I, 14).

Explanatory Notes on Appendix IV

Figures ? to ? in inset squares occurring in the five plates of Appendix IV stand for the serial numbers of Mss. referred to in the list of Mss. given on pp. 22 and 23. The marginal numbers denote the values of the letter-numerals facing them.

K is an abbreviation used for Kielhorn's Report for 1880-81 and 1873-74.

As far as possible, letter-numerals have been entirely reproduced from Mss., but in a few cases they are only partially reproduced. For instance, from Ms. No. ??, 4 is taken out of 64; from Ms. No. ?%, 46 and 9 are taken out of 204, 166 and 219; from Ms. No. ?%, 4, 6, 6, 9 and 50 are taken from 24, 26, 46, 19 and 52, and from Ms. No. ?, 9 is taken out of 39.
